PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY SAMUEL SNOWDEN, ROYAL-STREET, ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1818.

[No. 5124.]

Vol. XVIII.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

HALL'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be expressed in pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds, which are so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obsteinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.
To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the limbs Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, &c.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c. &c.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Flour.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, scabiness, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.
For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

100 Dollars Reward.
RAN AWAY from Peter Graham, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 23th of March last, a very likely Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Noland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round head, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave—small feet, a tolerable ready speech, and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high, with appearance she had on when she went away a dress of coating cloth, made in a coat and jacket, with skirts of a brown stuff color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, or Fairfax counties, or the District of Columbia, if taken in any other county or state, and secured in any jail, so that I obtain information and get her, I will give one hundred dollars, and all reasonable charges paid in either case, if he is right home.

MARY, THE MAID OF THE INN.
BY ROBERT SOUTHBY.

To be spoken at the Theatre this evening, by Mr. Caldwell.

Who is she, the poor maniac, whose wildly fix'd eyes
Seem a heart overcharg'd to excess?
She weeps not—yet often and deeply she sighs—
She never complains, but her silence implies
The composure of settled distress.

No aid, no compassion, the maniac will seek;
Cold and hunger awake not her care: Through her rage do the winds of the winter blow bleak
On her poor wither'd bosom half bare,
And her cheek
Has the pale deathly hue of despair.

Yet cheerful and happy, not distant the day,
Poor Mary the maniac has been;
The traveller remembers who journey'd that way,
No damsel so lovely, no damsel so gay,
As Mary the Maid of the Inn.

Her cheer'd address fill'd the guests with delight,
As she welcom'd them in with a smile;
Her heart was a stranger to childish al-fright,
And Mary would walk by the Abbey at When the wind whistled down the dark aisle.

She loved! and young Richard had settled the day,
And she hoped to be happy for life;
But Richard was idle and worthless—and they
Who knew him, would pity poor Mary,
That she was too good for his wife!

'Twas in autumn, and stormy and dark was the night,
And fast were the windows and door;
Two guests sat enjoying the fire that burnt bright,
And smoking in silence with tranquil delight,
They listened to hear the wind roar.

"'Tis pleasant, (cries one) seated by the fire side
To hear the wind whistle without!"
"A fine night for the Abbey, (his comrade replied)
Methinks a man's courage would now be well tried,
Who should wander the ruins about."

I myself, like a school boy, should tremble to hear
The hoarse ivy shake o'er my head;
And could I fancy I saw, half persuaded by fear,
Some ugly old A-bon's white spirit appear,
For this wind might awaken the dead."

"I'll wager a dinner, (the other one cried)
That Mary would venture there now."
"Then wage and lose, (with a sneer he replied)
I'll warrant she'll fancy some ghost by
And faintly she saw a white cow."

"Will Mary this charge on her courage allow?
(His companion exclaim'd with a smile)
I shall win; for I know she will venture there now,
And earn a new bonnet by bringing a
From the elder that grows in the aisle."

With fearless good humor, did Mary comply;
And her way to the Abbey she bent:
The night it was dark, and the wind it was high,
And as hollowly howling it swept thro'
She shivered with cold as she went.

O'er the path so well known still proceeded the maid,
Where the Abbey rose dim on the Through the gateway she entered—she was not afraid—
Yet the ruins were lonely and wild, and their shade
Seem'd to deepen the glow of the night.

All around her was silent, save when the rude blast
Howled dismally round the old pile; Over weed cover'd fragments still fearless she past,
And arriv'd at the innermost ruin at last,
Where the elder tree grew in the aisle.

Well pleased did she reach it, and quickly drew near,
And hastily gathered the bough—When the sound of a voice seemed to come on her ear!
She paused—and she listen'd, all excited, and her heart panting busily now!

The wind blew—the hoarse ivy shook o'er her head—
She listen'd—might else could she
The wind—her heart sunk in her bosom with dread—

For she heard in the ruins, distinctly, the tread
Of footsteps approaching her near!

Behind a wide column, half breathless with fear,
She crept to conceal herself there—
That instant the moon o'er a dark cloud shone clear.
And she saw in the moonlight two figures And between them a crouching and they bear!

Then Mary could feel her heart-blood cardle cold!
Again the rough wind hurried by—
It blew off the hat of the one, and behold,
Even close to the feet of poor Mary it She felt and expected to die.

"Curse the hat!" he exclaims—"Nay, come on, first hide
The dead body," his comrade replies:
She beheld them in safety pass on by her side:
She seizes the hat—fear her courage sup-
And last through the Abbey she flies.

She ran with wild speed—she rushed in at the door—
She gazed horribly eager around:
Then her limbs could support their faint burden no more, [on the floor, And exhausted and breathless she sunk Unable to utter a sound!

Ere yet her cold lips could the story impart,
For a moment the hat met her view:
Her eyes from that object convulsively start—
For, O God! what cold horror then thrilled through her heart, When the name of her Richard she knew!

Where the old Abbey stands on the common hard by,
His gibbet is now to be seen;
Not far from the road it engages the eye,
The Traveller beholds it, and thinks with a sigh
Of poor Mary, the Maid of the Inn.

ALEXANDRIA:
THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1816.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASH-INGTON.

Wednesday, January 14, 1816.

From the aspect which the debate about the power of Congress to punish contempt against its body and members began yesterday to assume, I augur a termination favorable to the interests of the public and the honor and character of Congress; and, therefore, rejoice that the question has been started, as the decision will put that important question at rest for ever. Yesterday morning Mr.
Spencer moved to withdraw the preamble to his resolutions, which went to declare that the house entertained doubts of its own competency to punish John Anderson. Upon which Mr. Talmadge thanked and complimented him, following up his thanks with a very excellent speech, full of knowledge and sound argument, and very handsomely and impressively delivered. For so young a person and so young a member of Congress it was a very extraordinary display of legal knowledge and sound argument, and affords promise of that gentleman's being an ornament to our national legislature. He was succeeded in possession of the floor by Mr. Hopkinson, who spoke at some length, refuting the arguments of the advocates of the resolutions, and expelling their fallacy with that sagacity and power of reasoning for which he is distinguished. When Mr. H. sat down, Mr.
Hiles rose and moved to strike out the resolutions, and in their place to substitute this:

"Resolved, That this house has competent power to punish John Anderson, and that accordingly the sergeant at arms be ordered to conduct the said John Anderson to the bar of the house."

Upon this motion being made, Mr.
Sergeant rose, and in a luminous speech supported the motion, and, as I think, demonstrated beyond the possibility of refutation, the right of Congress to exercise the power of punishing contempts, which he traced back to the earliest period of the country, demonstrating that it existed not in the theory only but in the practice of every legislative body since its commencement—in the provincial assemblies under the monarchy in the colonial legislatures, and in the legislatures of the several states since the revolution, and in every court of law from the highest to the lowest, all of whom, and the people along with them, concurred in one universal assent to the necessity of such a power. He showed that it existed in the first confederation that was formed in June, 1776, and that in the October following, it was exercised in the case of the hon. Thomas McKean (since then a judge and governor of Pennsylvania) against brigadier general Thompson, who had insulted him for certain opinions expressed in congress—that congress pursued that enquiry, examined brig genl.

Thompson at the bar of the house, and finally desisted only on his making an apology. Thus did they at that early period, take measures to guard the privileges of congress from violation. In 1796, at a time so near the period of forming the constitution that the intentions of the framers were fresh in the members of congress, that body did, in the case of Randall and Whitney, proceed as the house was doing in the case of John Anderson, and it was carried by a majority little short of an unanimous vote—78 to 17.— And that had ever since been the uniform construction. Mr. Sergeant reminded the house that it was acting in a judicial capacity, and besought them to consider how deeply it concerned the character of the country, in the eyes of the world, to be consistent in the exercise of a judicial function, and what a spectacle it would be, if they were known to have on one day punished an offender, and on the next denied their having the power to punish.
And he scouted the suggestion of danger from this power, since the house was li-ble to be put out by the people, who could if they pleased even after the constitution.

A message from the President respecting the occupation of Amelia Island by the United States was read by the speaker, and ordered to be laid on the table and printed. After which the house adjournd to this morning.

COMMERCIAL.

Last Friday, a man was committed to prison by the mayo, in whose possession was found, near $4000 dollars in counterfeit notes of the following denomination:—$100 and $1 Philadelphia Bank; $50 Schuylkill Bank, altered from $5; $50 and $30, Union Bank Maryland; $50 and $25 Hager's town Bank; $50 Farmer's and Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia; $10 New York State Bank; $10 Merchants' Bank, New York; $5 Farmer's Bank, Delaware; $5 Merchants' Bank, City of New York; $5 Commercial Bank of Pennsylvania; $5 Bank of Germantown—all of which can be easily detected by persons conversant in handling Bank Notes, but the generally of our citizens may be deceived, particularly with the Commercial and Germantown $5.—Persons who have lately received counterfeit money, would do well by calling on the mayo.

Such Printers as are disposed, will please to insert the above.

From the Federal Republican.

It appears from a London paper, from what authority we know not, that a confederacy is to be established under the auspices of Alexander. The object of this confederacy will be to submit all points in controversy between independent powers, to some other independent power, whose interest will not be affected by the decision of the question. The arbitrator is to be chosen by the two contending parties, whose sentence is to be final and conclusive. How far this proposition may meet, if it has ever been made, the accordance of the European powers, remains hereafter to be seen.
This proposal has often been made by speculatve politicians, who have witnessed the horrors and devastation occasioned by war, and who have suggested the above as the only practical expedient to prevent such dreadful effusion of human blood. Probably there is no time so auspicious as the present, for the adoption of a plan so fraught with benevolence and humanity. This project has been suggested by that religious sect denominated Quakers, as the only practical mode to avert the miseries of war. They have contended that all the European powers, after having squandered so much blood and treasure, after having brought misery and destruction from the palace to the cottage, are compelled at last to resort to the very plan now proposed to adjust the merits of the controversy.—For this religious sect the Russian monarch is known to entertain a peculiar regard and attachment. It is not an improbable suggestion, that the Friends have ever cherished their influence with the Russian monarch to bring about a change so auspicious to humanity. Whether such a plan is practicable, and whether, if it is practicable, it will answer all the purposes intended by its philanthropic movers, are questions only to be decided by trial. It is not the part either of justice or of sound policy, to reject a project because it is novel, and more especially when it abounds with nothing but those principles and precepts, which have already received the sanction, which were enforced by the life and by the death of the Saviour of the universe. Mankind have long since tried the power of the bayonet and the sword, and they have had awful evidence how poorly such arbiters adjust controversies between nations. Princes are gained in sanguinary battles to be restored again by treaties, and when in such quarrels laurels have been gained, they have been sprinkled with human blood. Glory is a brilliant goddess, and receives the worship of thousands, but her pedestal is a tomb; the shouts of admiring millions are unable to stifle the groans and sighs which such idolatry excites. It required the field of Waterloo to make a Wellington, and the name of Buonaparte has been written in burning characters in the ashes of Moscow.

FUNERAL PROCESSION FROM CLAREMONT.

The removal of the bodies of the princess and the royal infant from Claremont being fixed for six o'clock on Tuesday evening, a numerous party of the 10th, or Prince's own regiment, arrived at five.
Several of them were stationed in the Park near the polling to prevent disorder.
At the appointed time a mourning coach and six drove up to the grand entrance of the house; soon after the coffin containing the infant and urn were brought out and placed in the coach; directly after, Sir Robert Gardiner and colonel Ad-denbrooke followed and entered the coach.
The hearse then drove up, and the state carrage, containing the remains of the Princess, borne by ten men, was brought out and placed in the hearse; it then drove off, drawn by eight horses, and went completely out of sight, to prevent the Princesee's it when he came out. The coach which was to convey him being announced to be in readiness, his Serene Highness came out and entered it, attended by the Rev. Dr. Short in his fall rob; Baron Hardenbrooke, two gentlemen ushers, Lady J. Tyne, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Lewis, &c. went in the other mourning coaches. Every thing was conducted with the greatest regularity and solemnity; nothing was heard but the deep sighs of afflicted spectators who were admitted into the Park.
The whole was arranged by Mr. Mash, of the lord chamberlain's office, and Mr.
Banting, the undertaker. The procession began to move about half past six o'clock, preceded by upwards of thirty horsemen abreast, in full mourning. The whole was followed by a party of the 10th dragoons. Both Welton and Hampton court bridges were mentioned confidently as roads for the procession. It was, we understand, finally determined to go over Walton bridge, in consequence of the commander in chief having ordered general Polton to direct a party to ride over the two roads and report which was the best; and in consequence of their report being in favor of Walton, that was preferred. Great numbers of horsemen and pedestrians followed the bells of the different churches in the towns and villages through which it passed, in solemn sounds. The roads were thronged with spectators, and every house was closed. At Egham three out of the 10th regiment was relieved by the Royal Lancashire Guards who had left Windsor a few hours before 3 o'clock, where a great number of people had been waiting several hours. The remains of the Princess received at the Lower Lodge by the men of the guard, who carried the coffin a guard of honor from the 3d regiment of foot guards were stationed outside of the Lodge. Prince Leopold, his attendants, and others in the mourning coaches, lighted at the Lodge. The coach containing the body of the infant and the urn drove to the chapel, where it was received by the dean, and deposited in a vault without any church service.

Fa-b-s were disappointed at Walton, who expected the Princess to lie in state; whereas, on account of the smallness of the premises, and the want of passages to enter and retire, those who were admitted who had tickets.

The awful rites are terminated, and the tomb has just closed upon two generations from whom we expected a line of patriot princes, continuing in the remotest posterity the royal diadem the illustrious house of Brunswick. In these fond anticipations—these towers hopes are dashed to the earth, and instead of the joyful Anthem "Unto us is born, unto us a son is given," we have had to listen to the funeral dirge, and join in the requiem for the death two generations of princes in the space of a few hours. "Oh death, what is thy sting? Oh grave, where is thy victory?" Great indeed has been the victory the grave has gained, and deep do the unseal British family feel the sting of death.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

Arrived on Thursday morning last and immediately moored in the harbor of Portsmouth, the NEW YEAR EIGHTEEN HUNDRED EIGHTEEN. We understand she will remain at her present mooring for the term of twelve months. Her arrival was greeted by the hearty cheering and reciprocal good wishes of the counted millions of human beings who yet dwell on the border of Time; and they experience all the happiness and joy during the twelve months of her continuance that their largest wishes could have anticipated; and after witnessing with delight, the arrival of many succeeding years, when Time itself shall visibly weigh anchor to depart, may be to be borne by that buoyant vessel, Custodian 1872, through the quicksands of death into the haven of ETERNITY.

The New Year Eighteen Hundred Eighteen is laden, with believe, with full cargo of assorted plenty, coming to the firm of MAX & BRASS, which be discharged at different periods during her stay in the harbor of Time, when they will sail in ballast to the river of Eternity. We do not learn that any particular invoice accompanies the cargo; but it is hoped there may be on board a supply of charity mantles and a few bills of lading, which are much wanted in this quarter, as we are now here destitute; while our market is greatly overstocked with cloaks of confidence, raincoats of self will. Happiness, properly, love and good will are articles much sought after, while our market continually inquired for, and ever desired by all those who live on the border of Time. We sincerely hope that the arrival will bring us large quantities these articles, and that there may be by cases of matrimony, an article much wanted to revive the drooping rains of vast numbers of the Female Masculine race of beings; many of who have been long languishing for, and of whom almost despair of ever obtaining a cure of this kind of merchandise. It can be no doubt of her unloading in a season a plentiful supply of bread stuff and other necessary articles for consumption.

The New Year Eighteen Hundred Eighteen spoke, as she was coming to the harbor, at a late hour on Wednesday night, the Old Year Eighteen Hundred Seventeen, in ballast, under a heavy cargo of sail, outward bound. The wind being very fresh, and both having it they shot by each other in a trice, so that it was impossible to learn many particulars. The mate of the Eighteen Hundred Seventeen, however, Mr. Ross, having described the New Year Eighteen Hundred Eighteen, making up for harbor, found time to make the following interesting extracts from their own book, which he attached to a heavy of memory and threw on her quarter as she passed:

EXTRACTS.

Saw in January last, in the tude of Concord, N. H. the "stern" chebeco built schooner, the venerable Plumber, lying at Anchor under the lee of the Frigate Court, Court, having just returned from trading voyage, with a quantity Public Stock, for return cargo.
The owners had threatened to the Captain out of employ, for failing manner at first, and misconduct while in command.
Public Stock soon after coming demand by mere chance, like Timothy Dexter's warning, turned out that she made a secret and the Captain was continued in command.

Spoke on the 4th of March in the longitude of Capitol Hill, and latitude of Pennsylvania Avenue, the President Monroe 74, full rigged, and in complete order for a few years service, all sail set, sky scrapers up, American Ensign at the peak, and the Commodore's broad pendant at the main royal mast head, with a fair wind blowing fresh, just doubling round Oath Bar, and going into Office Bay. Afterwards heard her speak the Frigate Congress, with a full crew and a great number of passengers;— all well.

Saw on the 5th of March, the old 74, President Madison, lying in Virginia Creek, having been hauled up in ordinary alongside the rotten hulk of the Jefferson, and dismantled.

Fell in, sometime in May, with the prize Frigate Connecticut, Wolcott prize master, having surrendered after a short conflict, to a fleet of Democratic Gunboats. It afterwards appeared that this valuable frigate had been taken in consequence of a mutiny among the crew, respecting the Chaplain, he insisting on speaking extempore, while a large part of the crew wanted him to read prayers out of a book!

Spoke several times during the months of June, July, and August, in different parts of U.ion Ocean, the 74, President Monroe, on a cruise of observation, always under a strong convoy, and saluted by all she passed.

She had fine weather and a smooth sea during her whole cruise, and had fell in with no enemy excepting the Privateer Party Spirit. O-born master, assisted in the command by several others, crew principally from Kentucky. The 74 fired several broad sides at her, which did great execution, completely crippling her.
She however escaped in her own sneak. The Captain and some of her crew still firing a few steam thunders, notwithstanding their distressed situation was evident from the fact that both pumps were going when she was last descried. Some of the crew informed us that the Chebeco bust schooner, Governor Plumber did not venture out of Kipling Cove as they passed. She however sent her pump up to Concord Haven, and fired a salute through the scull-hole. Just before the Monroe went into Washington Bay, she was lying in, for a short time near Sacket's Harbor, surrounded with about twenty flat bottomed Pottawattamie boats, manned with red men, who wanted to shake hands with "Uncle Sam," whom they understood to be on board.

August 13th, Cape Ann bearing N. E. distant one league, saw something floating on the water that appeared like a number of casks of West India Rum adrift. All hands gave three cheers and prepared the tackle to hoist them in. On approaching a little nearer, however, we soon discovered our mistake; and found it to be the iron sided sloop Sea Serpent, having taken out her mast, and fishing for herring. We immediately armed a part of the crew with harpoons, spears, nets, &c. with the intention of taking her, but found all our exertions fruitless, as without mast or sail, she would escape the most vigilant pursuers. Some of our crew however succeeded in capturing one of her barrels, which they sent into the port of Boston.

About the middle of November, in the longitude of Grafton, fell in with the two sloops of war Dartmouth College and Dartmouth University, both in a shattered and leaky condition.— They had been engaged in a running fight for a long time, until they arrived in the latitude of Exeter Court House, when both vessels clewed their topsails to the masts, and commenced a furious engagement, which lasted about ten hours, during which it was evident the College kept up the most vivid and best directed fire, having the heaviest metal and doing great execution with her three Long Toms! At this time, by a skillful movement, the University decoyed her from her position, and in attempting to regain it by going about, she missed stays and unfortunately struck on Plymouth Bar, where she lost her masts and came near bilging. The University in the mean time being very weak handed, had received so many shots between wind and water, and having all her masts swept by the board, was not disposed to renew the action. The College at length, by the assistance of the old sea Captain who lived near the Bar, got off, and though short of provisions, and manned principally with boys, found means to dispatch a boat, under the cover of the night, armed with sticks and clubs, and succeeded in capturing the schooner Social Friends and united Fraternity, both laden with literature, bound about 8 o'clock for that purpose. The procession did not enter Windsor till a little before 2 o'clock, where a great concourse of people had been waiting hours. The remains of the Princess were received at the Lower Lodge by the men of the guard, who carried the coffin, a guard of honor from the 3d regiment of foot guards were stationed outside of the Lodge. She however sent her plank up to Concord Haven, and fired a salute through the scull-hole. Just before the Monroe went into Washington Bay, she was seen lying to, for a short time near Sacket's Harbor, surrounded with about twenty flat bottomed Pottawattamie boats, manned with red men, who wanted to shake hands with "Uncle Sam," whom they understood to be on board.

August 13th, Cape Ann bearing N. E. distant one league, saw something floating on the water that appeared like a number of casks of West India Rum adrift. All hands gave three cheers and prepared the tackle to hoist them in. On approaching a little nearer however, we soon discovered our mistake, and found it to be the iron sided sloop Sea Serpent, having taken off her mast, and fishing for herring. We immediately armed a part of the crew with harpoons, spears, nets, &c. with the intention of taking her, but found all our exertions fruitless, as without mast or sail, she would escape the most vigilant pursuers. Some of our crew however succeeded in capturing one of her barges, which they sent into the port of Boston.

About the middle of November, in the longitude of Grafton, fell in with the two sloops of war Dartmouth College and Dartmouth University, both in a shattered and leaky condition. They had been engaged in a running fight for a long time, until they arrived in the latitude of Exeter Court House, when both vessels clewed their topsails to the masts, and commenced a furious engagement, which lasted about ten hours, during which it was evident the College kept up the most vivid and best directed fire, having the heaviest metal and long guns! At this time, by a skillful movement, the University decoyed her from her position, and in attempting to regain it by going about, she misadvisedly and unfortunately struck on Plymouth Bar, where she lost her masts and came near biting. The University in the mean time being very weak handed, had received so many shot between wind and water, and having all her masts swept by the board, was not disposed to renew the action. The College at length, by the assistance of the old sea Captain who lived near the Bar, got off; and though short of provisions, and manned principally with boys, found means to dispatch a boat, under the cover of the night, armed with sticks and clubs, and succeeded in capturing the schooner Social Friends and United Fraternity, both laden with literature, bound to the port of Succeeding generations.—When last seen, the Sloops of War were both under jury masts, the College steering South, in hopes to fetch into Washington Bay and get under the lee of the old 74, United States Court, lying there at anchor—but the within hail, the 74 had not answered her signals—University was following in her wake, at a short distance, watching her movements and repairing damages, to renew the action, if the 74 showed any disposition to interfere. Both vessels were continually discharging at each other from two or three swivels, showers of old spikes, old iron, old shoes and various combustibles, which did no execution.

Spoke the 1st December, near Ochlockie river, the Ship Indian Warfare, Capt. Gaines, in full chase of a fleet of flat bottomed Aborigine boats, manned with Red Sticks, Seminoles, Creeks, Cherokees, and runaway Blacks, and armed with tomahawks, bows and arrows, scalp knives, &c. The Indian Warfare, had put to sea without being duly cleared at the Custom House.

Spoke on the 16th December, in the Gulf of Misfortune, and near the shoal of Despair, the private armed Ship Amelia Republic, Commodore Aury, one day without rudder, chart or compass, driving fast before the wind, in a direction for the shoal. The weather squally. We hailed and enquired where bound: "not bound at all, free as air; we escaped that blessing, the Commodore answered, yesterday, but if the wind stands we expect to get no where!"

Saw, the 20th December, in Washington Bay, the United States frigate Fifteenth Congress, lying at anchor, crew mostly green hands. All employed in overhauling the running rigging, splicing the old, and reeving the new. Some of the crew were at work on the main stay, trying to January 13 G DENEALE.

To the Flour and Rice Millers OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN,—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the sums I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. There has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law; that each miller, is liable to pay a reasonable actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of my property during the infringement. I have expended the greatest part of a long, arduous, and indefatigable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding as set by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 22, 1819, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding become due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the user; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to Capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will be valid, and save the expense of suit and treble damages to the defendants.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry; Plaster of Paris acting on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and those now untillied, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed; the out-houses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unimpaired.

P. G. MARSTELLER. November 27

James Kennedy & Son, BOOKSELLERS, KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

R ESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title so commonly complained of as operating with violence, on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent and is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terres or large round worm; the Ascariides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenuis or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite. sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

HANN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS. THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
